THE THIRTIETH OF JANUARY

Date Fixed For Reopening The Normal College

DIRECTORS ARE NOW IN SESSION

Their Report on Their Findings in Regard to the Epidemic Will Likely be Made Tomorrow.

The board of directors of the State Normal and Industrial College are now in session in this city. Their first meeting was held last night in the McAdoo parlors and the deliberations lasted far into the night.

As a result of last night's meeting the announcement is made today that the college will be reopened on the 30th day of this month. There was a long discussion as to whether the college should open so early, some of the members thinking, perhaps, that the risk was was too great. We do not know who opposed or who favored an early opening; but all things considered, we think the decision a wise one. We do not propose to enter into a long argument in support of this view, but will quote the words of a physician in answer to a qestion from the editor of this paper as to what he thought of the risk to be taken in an early opening. He said in substance:

"I think it will be as healthy a place as there is in North Carolina. The buildings have been thoroughly renovated and fumigated, the beds burned, the plastered walls recalcimined and whitewashed, all woodwork repainted, the infected wells filled up and everything in the knowledge of science done to destroy the germs. I am decidedly of the opinion that it will be perfectly safe to reopen the college now at any time."

That opinion is a reasonable one, even to a layman. We believe the risk would not be lessened in any great degree by waiting, even until next fall. At that time, it would be most remarkable if there should develop no cases of malaria among a large number of students from all parts of the state, and after the experiences just gone through, any kind of sickness would not naturally cause apprehension.

The board of directors, it will be remembered, have not made a report on the cause of the epidemic. The report of Dr. Lewis, of the state board of health, some time ago, was merely a report of progress, and was not passed upon by the directors, though in some instances newspapers and individuals have seemed to regard it as the full and final report. Such is not the case. The directors are today working on their report, which will be in detail, and it is the intention of the board, we believe, to deal plainly with the facts as they have been ascertained This should be their determination, and we believe it is.

Their report will likely be given to the public tomorrow.

FOUR MILLION DOLLARS.

The Riverside Cotton Mills to Increase Capital Stock.

Special to The Telegram.

Danville, Jan. 12—It is announced here that the Riverside Cotton Mill Co., at a meeting of the directors, has authorized an increase of the capital stock from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000. It is already one of the biggest mills in the south, and this increase, if carried out, will make it still greater.

The scheme proposed and contemplated is the development of an immense water power four miles up the river and the erection of another mill. That is the talk and the prospects are bright for a consummation of the plan

Explanation Wanted.

Dr. J. M. Spainhour, of Lenoir, who is here attending the meeting of the Maria L., which arrived at Port Elizhis section want Charles B. Aycock for governor.—Greensboro cor. Charlotte Observer.

Dr. Spainhour was seen by a Telegram reporter this morning with reference to the above, and says the thing has got him somewhat mixed, and he hardly knows what he is here for. He has not met the "Maria L." He will allow the correspondent to choose the weapons.

Will Return to His First Love.

J. T. Matthews, the gentlemanly and popular clerk at Hotel Jones, will return to his former home in Greensboro the first of March, having accepted the chief clerkship in the Benbow Hotel there, which is to be completed and reopened in March. Mr. Matthews has been in Winston several months and the many friends he has won will regret to learn of his decision. He is not only popular with the traveling men, but with all who form his acquaintance. He is one of the best hotel men in the state.—Winston Sentinel.

Seven days more only, left in which to take advantage of the 20 per cent reduction at Kaufmann's. Remember that his entire stock is of the latest designs and patterns. But another season is coming soon and I prefer to sacrifice the big end of the profit on stock on hand, turn my goods into money and buy new goods even at the advance rather than carry over stock now on hand. I wish my store to have the reputation of carrying only new and up-to-date goods. Hence I am willing to sell new goods at this discount to keep them from becoming old. The discount applies to anything in stock except collars and cuffs. I carry shoes, hats and furnishings generally.

WATERWORKS MASS-MEETING.

High Point Seems to be Getting in Earnest.

HIGH POINT, N. C., Jan. 13.

Mrs. J. J. Fariss is visiting friends at her old home in Reidsville.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be prepresented for the second time in Archdale tonight. Several from here will witness the play. If you can go down —you'll never regret

Mr. and Mrs Perrow Johns arrived in the city last night and have rooms with his sister, Mrs. Davis, on Thomasville street. They will make High Point their future home.

State Councilor A. B. Horney left this morning for Raleigh, where he will install officers in Capital City No. 1, Jr. O. U. A. M. tonight. Saturday he will visit Durham and attend a meeting at night.

One of the oldest citizens of Guilford county, Elihu Mendenhall, is ill at his home at Deep River.

Miss Florence Chandler is bookkeeper for the High Point Provision Co.

R. C. Charles has sold his "high stepper" to a gentleman at Pinehurst.

The mass meeting which was called for last night in the interests of the water works was addressed by a dozen or more of our leading men, including Mayor Cox, E. A. Snow, John A. Lindsay, O. N. Richardson, W. F. Pickett, Dr. Stanton and Rev. J. B Richardson. All of the arguments showed conclusively that it would be of great advantage for the city to own the water works. From conservative estimates it was demonstrated that in all probability the system would be a source of revenue. Right here we want to say that all those who have it in their heads that water works will increase taxation to stop and think, and hear what conservative men have to say in this regard. It can and will be made self-sustaining to say the least. The argument of Rev. Richardson, from a working man's standpoint, was convincing as to the benefits derived by all classes. There will be another meeting Monday night at which time it is expected that a large crowd will be present.

Amos Davis and wife, of Ohio, are holding a meeting at Oak Hill.

The High Point Pants Company are hustling things. They are fixing to run at night.

A. P. Staley, jeweler, has several watches from Cuba, to repair.

Mr. A. F. Cox, of Cedar Falls and Miss Lucy Creason, of Worthville, were united in marriage yesterday at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. Hal M. Worth.

C. L. Hill, of St. Louis, was a guest of this city last evening.

It is probable that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be presented here by Archdale talent at an early date.

UNKNOWN STEAMER BURNING.

No Chance to Save the Crew or Passengers of the Vessel.

By Cable to the Telegram

St. John, Jan. 12—The unknown steamer, which is stranded on a reef near St. Mary's bay, was still burning at daybreak this morning. There is danger of her pounding to pieces, as immense waves are sweeping over her.

The weather is so heavy that it is impossible to make out the name on the stem of the burning ship. The flames are still raging fiercely despite the fact that waves are sweeping over the vessel. It would be useless to attempt to rescue anybody. Several of the passengers and crew have already washed overboard and survivors are seen lashed to the rigging. Wrecking steamers have left here in the hope of saving somebody but there is little hope felt because death from exposure is inevitable should the flames not reach them.

Later—No steamer can leave for the wreck until this afternoon. The colonial cruiser Fiona Bay and the steamer Kite will be sent from Placentia Bay as soon as possible. Steamers leaving here today cannot reach St. Mary's Bay before tomorrow.

The last report says the outlines of the wrecked vessel can be seen in a driving snow storm and the forms of men in the rigging covered with ice. It is probable that they have since died of cold. The temperature is several degrees below zero.

Now on Sale.

Sometime ago we stated that Grissom & Fordham would handle "The Water of Life" from Mt. Vernon Springs. Mr. Foust, the proprietor of the springs, has recently been here and arranged to have prompt shipments of this famous water, who now have a supply on hand. Try it.

London papers this morning gave much prominence to the report that Baron Strathlona, high commissioner for Canada, had offered to equip at his own expense a company of four hundred Canada volunteers for service in South Africa. The Times describes the offer as "patriotism on a splendid scale" In an interview today, however, the Baron denies that he made any such offer.

THE WOOD PULP DUTY.

Bellamy's Bill Is Receiving a Large Support.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 12—Representative Bellamy, who, as reported the other day has introduced a bill in the house of representatives, aimed at the paper trust of the country, is receiving considerable support. The bill, if passed by congress would be a direct blow to the trust, which has been enabled by the duty to keep up high prices on paper. The removal of the entire duty on wood pulp, and the reduction of the duty on manufactured paper 50 per cent, as the measure proposes, would do much toward breaking up the present combination existing. The paper trust, it is needless to say, is fighting the removal of the duty on wood pulp and the reduction of the duty on manufactured paper, tooth and nail, but the sentiment in the house in favor of the passage of the bill is found to be very great. The southern members of congress, including, it is believed, the entire South Carolina, North Carolina, Virgina and Texas delegations are in favor of Mr. Bellamy's measure. The measure is especially in the interest of rural newspapers, and is receiving a large support from that quarter. The sentiment in favor of this, or some bill similar to that of Mr. Bellamy's measis not found alone on the democratic side of the house. At least one republican in the house, Mr. Tompkins, of New York state, has declared himself in favor of the removal of the duty on wood pulp. He goes further even than does the proposed measure of Mr. Bellamy, and says he would like to see the entire duty on manufactured paper removed, if possible. Other republicans in the house, some of them otherwise strong protectionists, coming from the rural districts, are being besieged by their constituents to support the bill, and many of them are declaring themselves in its favor. It begins to look as if the sentiment in the house might become strong enough to compel the reporting of the bill from the ways and means committee of the house, where it is now pending, and its passage through the house of representatives. If the bill of Mr. Bellamy should pass the house, a strong effort would be made to secure its passage through the senate.

Ex-President Cleveland passed through Washington the other night. He was on his way south, and stopped over only long enough to make the proper railway connections. The ex-president is on his way to Georgetown, and other points in South Carolina, for the purpose of indulging in his favorite sports—duck hunting and fishing. It is said that he may go south as far as Florida, as the fishing in that state is excellent at this season of the year. He may also visit some of the North Carolina resorts. The ex-president, who has recently been in bad health, does not show it much. He says himself that he is much better than he has been for some time past.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, Senator Taliaferro, of Florida, and the entire congressional delegation of North Carolina, and many other prominent senators, representatives and distinguished men, have been selected as managers for the reception and banquet, to be given tonight in this city, at the National Rifles' Armory, by the ladies of the North Carolina society, in aid of the fund for the proposed monument to General Robert E. Lee.

President McKinley will shortly have two good postofficeships to fill in the state of Virginia, those at Lynchburg and Bedford City. For the former office it is regarded as almost certain that Ex-Postmaster McLaughlin will be appointed by the president, as he has been endorsed by the republican executive committee, and all of the republican leaders of the state.

Dr. Harris H. Bass, a well known young physician of Henderson, N C., was married at Washington Wednesday night to Miss Annie Blanche Hale, of Richmond. The young couple after their marriage registered at the Metropolitan, and left for Henderson Thursday morning.

Site of postoffice at Cedar Falls, Randolph county, has been moved 1225 feet south.

E. M. Cregg has been appointed postmaster at Foscoe, Watauga county, North Carolina.

Clermie House has been appointed postmaster at Strabane, Lenoir county.

The Weather Calendar.

One of the best calendars of the season is the "Cardui Weather Chart and Calendar for 1900," published by the Chattanooga Medicine Company, the manufacturers of McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black Draught. The Telegram office has just received one from the publishers, which consists of twelve sheets of paper, 13x20 inches in size, all fastened together with a gilt tin strip and a brass loop hanger. Each sheet contains the calendar for one month in large figures that can be read across any room. Under the figures patent weather signals indicating Prof. Devoe's weather forecasts for every day in the year appear. The moon's changes and legal holidays are also shown. We understand a few copies can be secured by sending 10 one cent postage stamps to the Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Every day the wholsalers and retailers are receiving circular letters from the manufacturers advising continued advances on their products. The wholesaler writes the retailer—hold your present stock for better prices. Some merchants are doing this, but Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees, clothiers. say they bought their goods before this increase in price, and until the laborers' wages in the south are made equal to the increased price on merchandise they propose to sell at a small profit from their present stock as long as it lasts.

They claim that if this increase in all raw material is an honest forerunner of "better times," that by the time our laborers commence to feel its influence, everybody will have more money, consequently, everybody will be prepared to pay "bigger" prices, but remember these people are selling now with the advance off. CHATHAM SMALLPOX AGAIN.

Our good friends down in Chatham, the Pittsboro Record and the Siler City Messenger, are unduly frustrated over the Telegram's reply to the Record last week, when that paper charged that all the smallpox in Chatham was carried there from Greensboro and that it was "strange that the city authorities of Greensboro would continue to allow negroes sick with smallpox to leave that city and spread the disease over the country." Our reply was based on facts as they have been recorded in this city, what the authorities say and what every well informed man in this city knows to be true, and not what some negro says. We did not reply to the Record in order to advertise the misfortunes of Chatham; far from it. We love the old county, which contains some of the best people on earth, and are sorry that anything in the shape of itch, measles, smallpox or any other pestilence has ever invaded her borders; but the imputation on the part of the Record that the presence of smallpox in that county was due to carelessness or wilfull negligence on the part of the authorities of Greensboro was putting it rather too strong, and we again emphatically state that the Record is in error.

One thing we must admit, however, and that is, whether or not the Chatham health authorities are sufficiently alert in dealing with the smallpox cases they are so unfortunate as to have, they are moving in solid phalanx to prove the Telegram in error in stating that the cases did not go there from Greensboro. Both the Chatham papers dwell at considerable length on a correspondence in October betwee Dr. Chapin, of Chatham, Dr. Best, of Greensboro, and Dr. Lewis, of the state board of health, in regard to a negro named Headen, who, it is alleged, left Greensboro early in October, sick with some kind of skin eruption; that he had been working in a factory here and that he boarded with the family of one Peter Hanks, four members of which were sick with the same complaint. This story ends in both papers with the statement that "Dr. Lewis wrote Dr. Chapin that he had notified Dr. Best, the county superintendent of health at Greensboro, and that the latter had written him that he had examined the sick members of the family of Peter Hanks, and that they were not sick with smallpox, but with a skin disease called impetigo contagioso."

Yet, the Chatham papers say that more smallpox has spread from the case of Headen than any other. Do they mean to say that the physician here is mistaken and that the Chatham physician is right in the diagnosis? An old doctor, eminent in the profession, and who has treated undisputed smallpox in the army and elsewhere, states emphatically that the suspected cases here last spring and one or two reported in the city limits since the outbreak at Terra Cotta Works, were not smallpox. There has not been a single death here, and not a serious case; but it is reported that there have been several deaths in Chatham. We are sorry if this be true. But in view of results, where has the greatest effort, not to say skill, been displayed?

At the outset we did not intend to say but a few words, but the charge that Greensboro authorities are careless in this matter is a grave one, though positively untrue. As we stated before, the authorities here have dealt with suspicious cases as though they were smallpox, in spite of the differing opinions of the doctors. The county commissioners have used all possible diligence, but they have not yet quarantined against Chatham, though the disease has proved fatal there in several cases. There has been no failure in this county to look after every case reported, and as we stated before, a strict quarantine of the infected district at Terra Cotta has been maintained.

Not a single suspicious case has left Greensboro or this county with the knowledge or consent of the "authorities." By the way, may we ask what Chatham has done more than Guilford to prevent persons leaving there and carrying the disease to other places. It would not be "strange" if some get away if they want to. It was not "strange" that Fentress broke the lines of quarantine at Newport News last spring and got away.

The Telegram, on the occasion of its first reference to this matter, made only such statement as was abundantly warranted by the facts, and such facts as we were personally familiar with. There has been no attempt at smuggling or suppressing the truth, as the Messenger alleges by inuendo, and we shall not further notice that.

We suggest to our county commissioners, not in a spirit of retaliation, but as a matter of protection, that they quarantine against Chatham county, in view of the fact that the disease has assumed a fatal aspect there, and a number of Chatham negroes are frequently seeking (and finding) employment in Greensboro. There are many reasons why we would regret to have to reverse the order and lay the charges at the door of Chatham which her newspapers are now so energetic in fixing upon the "authorities" of Greensboro.

We have a strong impression that the state has lost a good deal in the resignation of Col. W. H. Osborn from the board of directors of the penitentiary. He was giving the penitentiary problem much and valuable thought; and the board will miss his counsel.—Charlotte Observer.

The Observer is right. Col. Osborne has done much toward bringing about the conditions on which the recent excellent report of the penitentiary was made.

CAPT. GLENN ANNOYED

Didn't Expect His Announcement to be Published.

Winston, Jan. 11—Capt. R B. Glenn is greatly annoyed over the announcement in the papers that he is a candidate for the United States senate. A representative of the Atlanta Journal did talk with him while in Washington, but Capt. Glenn did not know his statement would be published

Capt Glenn says he considers it too early for him or anyone else to declare himself a candidate for the senate, but that every good democrat should devote his time and attention to the ratification of the constitutional amendment, as he considers this of a great deal more importance than the question of a successor to Senator Pritchard.

There is one error in the Atlanta Journal's interview with Capt Glenn which he wishes corrected. He is made to say, "We are tired of being ruled by the ignorant vote." What he said was, "We are tired of being cursed by the ignorant, vicious negro vote"

"THE LOST CAUSE."

Perpetuated in Paintings—Wanted for Confederate Museum.

The following circular, received a few days ago by the president of the Guilford Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, cannot but appeal to every southern heart.

These pictures were on exhibition at the Confederate Museum—the old white house of the Confederacy—during the national convention of the U. D. C's in Richmond in November last; and only one general criticism was heard concerning them, from the hundreds who viewed them—that they are grand in conception and perfect in execution. Every stroke of the brush shows the young soul fired with patriotism.

In exchange for a studio in Rome, where his genius was fast gaining him name and fame. Conrad Wise Chapman chose a southern battlefield in his native land, and painted these lovely pictures with shot and shell falling thick and fast around him.

The Guilford Chapter of the U. D. C's wish to help toward securing these pictures for the museum but cannot do it alone—hence ask the aid of Confederate Veterans and all lovers of the "Lost Cause" to aid them. The editors of the Record and the Telegram will gladly receive donations for this noble work and turn same over to the U. D. C's.

Richmond, Va., July 15, 1899—There has been on exhibition in this city a series of thirty-one (31) oil paintings, made at Charleston, South Carolina, between the dates of September 16th, 1863, and March 16th, 1864, by Mr. Conrad Wise Chapman, who left his studio, in Rome, to take part with us in our struggle. The paintings are of extraordinary interest, not only as works of art, but because they represent vividly the actual daily life and appearance of the men, batteries and boats, who successfully defended Charleston against every attack made on it from the waterfront.

These pictures would have great value for any museum as works of art, but for the south—for this museum, which holds the memories and relics of the entire confederacy, they are priceless. They were executed on the spot, often under heavy fire; and were painted under the strong impetus of personal enthusiasm, by the young artist who was detailed for the specific purpose. They exist today without parallel or copies, and, above all, they prove the fact (too often overlooked) that the confederacy achieved remarkable results in the field of military service and invention.

To describe them as they deserve will be impossible at this time: only a few striking points can be mentioned in this brief letter.

Picture No. 14 represents the submarine topedo-boat "H. L. Hunley." This was the first submarine boat ever constructed. She sank the "Keokuk," and was herself lost, with all her crew. We have, therefore, the only authentic picture of a boat whose creation showed the power of the southern mind to invent, and whose end proved once more the courage of the Confederate heart to dare any peril for the cause for which we fought.

In No. 4 we have the only picture of "The David," the first torpedo-boat ever used in naval warfare, and thus made forever famous.

No. 17 shows a night bombardment by calcium search-lights—since become one of the most powerful aids in waging war.

Thus it will be seen that in each of the thirty-one (31) pictures is represented some notable event of historic interest to us—and all future generations—which we cannot afford to let pass away from us. We look to you to help us in securing them; we cannot do it alone. Can you not raise for this purpose one hundred dollars ($.00) in your honored state? If each state will raise ($100) toward this fund we will soon have the privilege of placing them in a permanent form in the Confederate Memorial Museum.

It is necessary to act in concert and with expenditure in this matter. The failure on the part of one means failure for all.

Surely there are twenty men in your loyal state who will each give $5 towards this purchase. I trust that your state may take the lead in this important work. In all Confederate work we have never yet appealed in vain to you—nor will we now.

Please publish this letter in your daily papers, and also take such steps as may seem best to you for the accomplishment of this end.

I am yours cordially in the work,

Belle S. Bryan,

President Confederate Memorial Literary Society.

580 Lives Lost in Japan.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 11—Advices by the steamship Empress of Japan tell of a fierce storm sweeping the Japanese coast on December 24th, by which 35 junks were lost by being towed from Osaka to Kobe and 171 persons perished. A tidal wave accompanied the storm, by which 411 lives in all were lost.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

The sales are growing and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher, of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what his been said around the globe when he he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by C. E. Gaining a Wide Reputation.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston, of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and pained me very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by O. E. Holton, druggist.

New Form of Marriage Ceremony.

During the holiday an inexperienced magistrate performed the marriage ceremony for a young couple up in 'God's country" in a rather unique fashion. When it came time to pronounce the ceremony the magistrate's memory failed him on the marriage ceremony, but he remembered something about an oath, and not wishing to delay matters, he proceeded somewhat as follows:

"Young man, you swear before God you'll marry this woman for your only wedded wife while you are alive, so help you God. Kiss the book.

"Young woman, you swear you'll marry this young man and keep him to himself till he dies. Kiss the book. The laws of North Carolina pronounce you man and wife."

While this is rather a novel ceremony we are assured by experienced hands that it will hold in law, and the couple are living happily together.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my health and life. It cured me of lung trouble following grippe." Thousands owe their lives to this never failing remedy. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Howard Gardner.

The bone of contention is not worth picking.

J. I. Bevry, Logauton, Pa., writes I am willing to take my oath I that was cured of pneumonia entirely by the use of One Minute Cough Cure entirely after doctors failed. It also cured my children of whooping cough." Quickly relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Children all like it. Mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

Swearing Off.

That was rather an interesting story told in our Greensboro correspondence yesterday, to the effect that two young men, strangers, appeared in the office of a justice of the peace there Wednesday and took an oath to abstain hereafter from liquor. It suggests another. Many years ago—perhaps 25—a well-known sleeping car conductor, who embraced Charlotte and Atlanta in his run, and who had been drinking too much liquor for some time, got on a jamboree at an Atlanta fair, and as soon as he recovered from his debauch went before a justice of the peace and swore to and subscribed an oath to drink no more. He is now engaged in another business, with headquarters in another city, but is an occasional and always welcome visitor to Charlotte, where he has many friends. From the day he took that oath in Atlanta, to this, he has not taken a drink.—Charlotte Observer.

Beating the Railroad.

There was a man in town yesterday who told of a new scheme he has just worked to beat a railroad: "A friend and myself wanted to come from Omaha to Kansas City. He said to me: 'You buy a ticket only to the first station and I will show you a good trick.' I bought the ticket, as requested, while my friend bought a ticket the full distance at the regular fare. We took a seat together in the train. The conductor came around, took up the tickets and put a punched train check in my friend's hat, indicating that he was ticketed through to Kansas City. When the conductor got out of sight my friend took his knife and split the card. He put half into my hat and the other into his own. Both 'splits' looked like a regular check, and I came right on through without paying any more fare. We divided the saving, which was more than $2 each." —Kansas City Times.

Medicinal.

I think that the majority of church choirs in Brooklyn are helps to the churches. But some of them have got a bad habit of late—the quartette habit. They sing without the accompaniment of an organ, and thus exhibit all the blemishes of their voices. Only well trained and highly cultivated singers may safely venture to sing without a musical accompaniment. When the amateurs try the experiment they inflict needless pain upon their hearers. And the modern anthem! I recall an occasion on which the anthem ran in this way:

Soprano: "Oh, take this pill—"
Tenor: "Oh, t-a-ake this pill—"
Contralto: "O-o-h, take this pill—"
Basso: "O-o-h, take this pill—"
All together: "Oh, take this pilgrim home."

Filipinos' Stubborn Stand.

Manila, Jan. 11—Colonel Bullard, with the Thirty-ninth infantry, moving in three columns from Calamba, with two guns, attacked ten companies of insurgents strongly entrenched on the Santa Tomas road. They resisted stubbornly, making three stands. Twenty-four of the rebels were killed and sixty prisoners were taken. The Filipinos retreated, carrying their wounded toward Lake Taal. One American was killed and two officers were slightly wounded.

THE PASTOR CALLED DOWN.

A Bridgeport Congregation Rebuked His Sweeping Statements.

"Looking down upon you from my pulpit, I see among you men who have two wives; some of you are slaves to rum and tobacco. One of you has jailed your husband because—" But the speaker got no further, for among the congregation rose a young woman who cried: "Stop! Don't say another word, or you will dearly regret it."

This took place at the Methodist mission at Broadway and Gregory streets, the preacher being the Rev. S. E. Robinson, known as the "Fiery-Tongued Exhorter," and the young woman who interrupted him found many supporters.

There were cries of "Stifle him!" from all parts of the house The face of the preacher turned white, and retiring from the pulpit, he entered the vestry followed by derisive shouts. Some of the men in the congregation actually suggested a coat of tar and feathers.

"He is mentally unbalanced and it would be cruel to harm him," said some of the more potent parishioners.

Mr. Robinson left town this morning, and his whereabouts are unknown Once before he launched forth upon a similar tirade that caused him not a little personal discomfort. His entire flock is now aroused, and it is not likely that he will be recognized should he return.

Today a padlock was placed on the door of the mission.—Bridgeport, Conn., Dispatch.

Lewis Dennis, Salem, Ind., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure did me more good than anything I ever took." It digests what you eat and cannot help but cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Howard Gardner.

"Now," remarked the host as the clock struck four, "having toasted everybody from Queen Victoria to Oom Paul, let's drink a to the milkman." "'Rah!" remarked De Tanque—"Le's have th' (hic) milk toast."

"I was suffering with what the doctor called chronic indigestion, torpid liver and vertigo," says Mrs. Martha R. Barham, of Newville, Prince George Co., Va. "My symptoms were giddiness in the head, pains in my chest and an uneasy feeling all over. I also had female weakness. I was all run down, and could not do any work without suffering from nervous attacks, so I wrote to you. You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' I used five bottles of each. I gained in health and strength. When I commenced to use the medicines I weighed only 112 pounds, now I weigh 140. My husband and friends all thought that I would die, but to-day I am a well woman."

Mrs. Barham's experience is not singular. Thousands have given similarly strong and convincing testimony. There are no other medicines in the world that have such a long and continuous record of cures.

There are no other medicines "just as good" or "just the same" as Doctor Pierce's. Like all valuable things these medicines are sometimes imitated. Don't be imposed upon. See that you get what you ask for.

If you have any doubt as to the nature of your ailment write fully, giving your symptoms, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. He will consider your case carefully, and will tell you, absolutely free of charge, what to do to get well.

His many friends in this city will be pleased to see the statement made elsewhere, that Tom Matthews will return to Greensboro as chief clerk of the Benbow, when that hostelry reopens. Matthews is popular with the traveling public and is the man for the place in every respect.

In our report yesterday of the organization of Gate City Lodge, Knights of the Mystic Chain, by an oversight the name of L. C. Howlett as treasurer, was omitted. We regret this omission, but it was one of those errors common in printing offices. Mr. Howlett is a prominent secret order man, and a good one. He is a distinguished member of all the best orders.

About midnight last night a regular April thunder shower was on. The lightning flashed and the thunder rolled just like spring or summer. We met the Prowler as we went home from the office about that time and he remarked that it would soon turn colder. This was a reminder that winter was not over, and we resolved to look up the advertisement of the coal man and see what a bushel of the latest style would cost.

"REV." MR. TODD.

The Southern Presbyterian Calls Him Down a Bit.

As there was recently some controversy in the columns of the Telegram about one Mr. Todd, who was preaching in this city, we may be permitted to notice an article from the Southern Presbyterian, reproduced in the Asheboro Courier by request of Rev. A. R Shaw, a brother of Judge Shaw, of this city. After speaking of the big missionary collection taken in Asheboro by Mr. Todd the article says:

"We wonder too if they know that Mr. Todd is not a minister, or at least has no authority to preach, from his own or any other church. We wonder still more what Orange Presbytery and and North Carolina synod will say to a man preaching in their pulpits who is not ordained to the ministry; to a collection being taken up in their churches which is not to be remitted to their own mission treasury and which is necessarily an obstruction in the way of their own mission work. Asheboro Presbyterians evidently do not know what is being done and as the meeting is said to have been a blessing to them they probably do not care.

"But for all that, Mr. Todd is not treating the Presbyterian church fairly in coming into her pulpit without an opportunity being given to warn the church of his lack of accord with her doctrines; not only entering one of her pulpit and winning the hearts of her people under a blind, but much worse, actually diverting the liberality of her people from their own mission work to that of an irresponsible society. We have no idea of persecuting Mr. Todd. Personally we hold him in esteem, but we submit that his Asheboro move is laying it on a little too strong. It is an abuse of the ignorance of Asheboro Presbyterians and amounts to an ecclesiastical robbery.

"We reiterate the demand made some time ago in these columns that Mr. Todd and his associates organize themselves as a church. They have no right to parade as free lances. It puts our church in the attitude of persecutors, because we may not admit unordained men into our pulpits. If they were in some sort of church—it does not matter very much what sort, so it is evangelical—we could recognize them as ministers and admit them to our pulpits, showing them ministerial courtesies But at the same time we would expect a return of ministerial courtesies. We would expect them not to preach on controversial subjects when they preach for us and we would expect them not to enter our weak, ignorant or vacant churches and lead them away as proselites or hoodwink them into contributing to foreign treasuries.

"Be fair Bro. Todd Join some church, or make a church of your own Relieve yourself of the cloak of martyrdom, the Presbyterian and our treasuries of the burden of supporting other people. This is surely a fair demand."

That delayed shipment of boys and little gent's shoes came in at last this morning. It took them a long time to get here but they opened up all right when they did come. The little gent's shoes have very low common sense heels, a decided improvement on spring heels. Sizes in these are from 8½ to 13½, price $1.25 The boys' shoes, sizes running from 1 to 5½, are the best we have seen for the price, which is $1.50 For boys who are particularly hard on shoes we especially recommend our stout quilted bottom satin calf shoe. These have steel slugs in the heels to prevent running over and are made to stand rough weather and rough wear.
